

119TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

S. 1727

To amend the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 to permit employee stock ownership plan participants to benefit from the full amount of beneficial ownership that can be accrued in the plan while also fully realizing the benefits of saving for retirement in a defined contribution plan.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

MAY 13, 2025

Mr. CASSIDY introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions

A BILL

To amend the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 to permit employee stock ownership plan participants to benefit from the full amount of beneficial ownership that can be accrued in the plan while also fully realizing the benefits of saving for retirement in a defined contribution plan.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Employee Ownership
5 Fairness Act of 2025”.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2 Congress finds as follows:

3 (1) While Congress permitted the creation of
4 employee stock ownership plans (ESOPs) in the Em-
5 ployee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974,
6 these plans are not just a retirement plan for their
7 participants.

8 (2) The legislative history of ESOPs indicate
9 that ESOPs were intended to help the economy at 10 a time when bank financing was difficult for compa-
11 nies to obtain, with the Joint Committee on Tax-
12 ation categorizing the ESOP provisions of the Tax
13 Reform Act of 1984 as “Incentives for Investment
14 and Continued Economic Growth”.

15 (3) ESOPs empower workers to gain ownership
16 of their enterprise, thereby aligning the incentives
17 for owners and workers and affording workers an 18 economic stake in the company’s success.

19 (4) ESOPs serve as a mechanism of finance
20 whereby workers who otherwise would not have the 21 means can acquire the businesses where they work.

22 (5) ESOP employees who run successful, profit-
23 able companies are often unable to make full use of 24 their defined contribution plans as a result of their
25 company’s success accruing to their ESOP balance,

1 thereby causing their other plan contributions to ex-
2 ceed the annual cap.

3 (6) Unlike defined contribution plans where the
4 amount contributed is determined by the employee,
5 ESOP contributions reflect growth in the company
6 and its value rather than planned contributions by
7 the employee or employer. This is why the vast ma-
8 jority of ESOPs also sponsor a defined contribution
9 plan, such as a qualified cash or deferred arrange-
10 ment under section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue
11 Code of 1986, which facilitates the diversification of 12 workers' retirement savings.

13 (7) Sections 404 and 415 of the Internal Rev-
14 enue Code impose limits on benefits and contribu-
15 tions under qualified retirement plans. These limits
16 impede the ability for ESOP employees to diversify
17 their retirement savings and make their own retire-
18 ment savings contributions and often require their 19 employers to deny matching contributions they 20 would otherwise receive.

21 SEC. 3. ESOP AMENDMENTS.

22 (a) ERISA.—Subtitle B of title III of the Employee
23 Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (29 U.S.C. 1221
24 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

2 OWNERSHIP PLANS

3 “SEC. 3033. SPECIAL RULES FOR EMPLOYEE STOCK OWNER-
4 SHIP PLANS.

6 with respect to an employee stock ownership plan (as de-
7 fined in section 407(d)(6))—

8 “(1) for purposes of applying section
9 404(a)(3)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986,

14 used to acquire employer securities;

15 “(2) the limitations of section 404 of such Code
16 shall be applied separately to such plan and any
17 other defined contribution plan of the employer;

18 “(3) in determining annual additions under sec-
19 tion 415(c)(2) of such Code, employer contributions
20 under subparagraph (A) thereof are determined
21 without regard to—

22 “(A) contributions of employer stock; or
23 “(B) contributions made to repay loans
24 used to acquire employer securities; and

25 “(4) for purposes of section 415 of such Code,
26 forfeitures allocated to accounts under the plan shall

25 other defined contribution plan of the employer.”.

18 "(o) SPECIAL RULE FOR ESOPs.—In the case of an 19 employee stock ownership plan (as defined in section 20 4975(e)(7)), forfeitures allocated to accounts under the 21 plan shall not be taken into account as annual additions.".

22 (c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by
23 this section shall apply to plan years beginning after the 24 date of the enactment of this Act.
